

EmploymentCrossing Launches Job Site for Case Managers

February 18, 2009

Pasadena, CA — With the growing demand for healthcare professionals in niche segments, EmploymentCrossing launched an exclusive job site for case managers. CaseManagementCrossing (www.casemanagementcrossing.com) seeks to list every job opening for case managers on its site.

“The job market has been steady for healthcare professionals, especially for registered nurses (RN). Case management has been one of the most sought-after careers for RNs, and the newly launched CaseManagementCrossing aims to list only those jobs that interest case managers,” says Harrison Barnes, the CEO of EmploymentCrossing.

Case managers coordinate and organize patient needs for an insurance company. They analyze the patients’ healthcare needs, and prepare an action plan for their long-term health and wellness. They act as the mediator between patient and healthcare staff to ensure that the patient is provided with necessary treatment and attention in an efficient manner.

The demand for case managers has been steady, and so has been their salary. According to Salary.com, the median expected salary for a typical case manager in the United States is $59,631 in 2009. According to the 2005 salary survey initiated by the Case Management Society of America, most case managers made between $55,000 and $65,000 annually.

CaseManagementCrossing is an exclusive site that lists jobs related to case managers, mostly from employer websites. Unlike other job boards, CaseManagementCrossing focuses solely on researching case manager jobs from each and every newspaper classified, job board, printed matter, and online agency.

“Since we are a research-based organization, we continuously analyze the needs of job seekers. CaseManagementCrossing was launched to satiate the growing needs of case management professionals,” adds Barnes.

The following are the most-searched case manager jobs on CaseManagementCrossing since its launch:

- Hospital Case Management Jobs
