August 2, 2007

Pasadena, CA—Job searches have become effortless, accurate, and increasingly well-organized for consulting job seekers thanks to the aggressive job-search website ConsultingCrossing. ConsultingCrossing helps consulting professionals discover the best opportunities to match their unique career goals and interests. The site is a one-stop shop for consulting professionals.

With ConsultingCrossing's staff of hundreds of highly experienced researchers extensively monitoring the hiring needs of more than 250,000 employers across the country, countless new jobs are added to the site every day. And since the jobs listed on the site are specific to the consulting industry, job seekers can enjoy faster, more targeted job-search experiences.

ConsultingCrossing's homepage always lists the number of jobs the site posts each week along with a running total of job listings. The team works tirelessly to ensure that only the most current jobs are posted to the site every day. This week, ConsultingCrossing added more than 320 new consulting job openings.

In addition to providing an extensive range of job listings including exclusive notices not posted to other employment sites, ConsultingCrossing features a variety of articles that tap into the consulting industry's key players, companies, and stories.

This week, ConsultingCrossing's "Consulting Scoop" section takes a closer look at Total Quality Management (TQM) consulting which involves guiding and helping businesses achieve their strategic goals. Also, this week's "Career Minute" article helps readers decide whether consulting is the right profession for them.

This exciting website is affiliated with EmploymentCrossing (www.employmentcrossing.com), the main hub for a growing family of industry-specific job-search sites that launched on April 9, 2007. Currently, job seekers can visit EmploymentCrossing to sign up for ConsultingCrossing's services.

CONSULTINGCROSSING™

THE LARGEST COLLECTION OF CONSULTING JOBS ON EARTH

The development of the Crossing employment sites was inspired by the success of LawCrossing (www.lawcrossing.com), which features the largest collection of active legal jobs in the world including more than 10,000 positions at top law firms, corporations, public-interest organizations, and government offices throughout the U.S. Since its launch in July 2003, LawCrossing has become the world's largest legal-career-placement website. The site is another brainchild of EmploymentCrossing founder A. Harrison Barnes, who also founded the hugely successful parent company of the Crossing employment sites, Juriscape, in 2000.
