DesigningCrossing Dominates the Job-Search Industry By Offering a Vast Selection of Jobs

September 03, 2007

Pasadena, CA—Searching for a designing job online is now easier, more precise, and increasingly efficient thanks to the launch of the dynamic new job-search website DesigningCrossing. Designed to help talented professionals find the best opportunities to match their unique career goals and interests, this site is a one-stop shop for design professionals.

Because DesigningCrossing's staff of hundreds of highly experienced researchers extensively monitors the hiring needs of more than 250,000 employers across the country, countless new jobs are added to the site every day. And since the jobs listed on the site are specific to designers, job seekers can enjoy faster, more-targeted job-search experiences.

"We are excited to continue our expansion of the Crossing employment sites with DesigningCrossing, which can reach designers in every field. The launch of this, and our other sites, continues our detailed approach to helping more job seekers find the best opportunities in their specific areas of interest," said CEO A. Harrison Barnes.

In addition to providing an extensive range of job listings, including exclusive positions not posted on other employment sites, DesigningCrossing features a variety of articles that tap into the design industry's key players, companies, and stories.

This exciting new online company is affiliated with EmploymentCrossing (www.employmentcrossing.com), the main hub for a growing family of industry-specific job-search sites that launched on April 9, 2007. Currently, job seekers can visit EmploymentCrossing to sign up for DesigningCrossing's services.

The EmploymentCrossing group of websites is also on the fast track to rapid expansion, and more Crossing sites are launching weekly. These sites will focus exclusively on providing the most extensive range of available jobs from every corner of every sector. Watch for EmploymentCrossing's upcoming launches, which include PublishingCrossing (September 10th), JournalismCrossing (September 10th), RadioCrossing (September 17th), TVCrossing (September 17th), TelecomCrossing (September 24th), GovernmentCrossing (September 24th), InternshipCrossing (October 1st), and EntryLevelCrossing (October 1st).

The development of the Crossings employment sites was inspired by the success of LawCrossing (www.lawcrossing.com), which features the largest collection of active legal jobs in the world, including more than 10,000 positions at top law firms, corporations, public-interest organizations, and government offices throughout the U.S.
