

How to See Every $100,000+ Job Opening in Market from Every Job Board and Employer Career Page at Once

May 19, 2008

Pasadena, CA (PRWEB) — EmploymentCrossing.com [http://www.employmentcrossing.com] has launched a new job research site for job seekers that researches and consolidates 100K jobs, 100KCrossing.com [http://www.100kcrossing.com]. 100KCrossing.com [http://www.100kcrossing.com] researches and consolidates jobs over $100K from other job sites and employer websites and puts jobs that pay over 100K on its site.

“Since 100KCrossing is taking 100k plus jobs from over 100,000 websites, we are really changing the way people look for over 100K jobs. Every other job site I am aware of charges employers and recruiters in some way to post jobs on its site and this severely limits the jobs on these sites,” says A. Harrison Barnes, the CEO of 100KCrossing.com. 100KCrossing.com is a research company and does not charge employers to post job listings. We take every 100K plus job in the market and put it on 100KCrossing.com and also offer free job posting for employers and recruiters.”

In addition to jobs from major job boards and recruiter jobs, 100KCrossing.com posts job openings that are not widely known or publicized—which are the easiest jobs to get because they receive fewer applications,” says Harrison Barnes, founder of 100KCrossing.com. “We search websites including small regional newspapers and association websites that typically receive less traffic. 100KCrossing.com has been overwhelmed with the interest in our site since launching just a few days ago.”

Virtually every job seeker in the market is finding fewer $100K+ job listings at the present time due to the economic slowdown. In addition, in a tough economy, employers are less likely to work through recruiters who often charge steep fees of up to 40% of an executives annual salary to employers who hire their candidates. Higher paid professionals must pursue other job search methods.

100KCrossing.com is a research company that works for higher paid professionals across different industries with titles such as executive, manager, team lead, director, vice presidents, net developer, programming, senior marketing manager, business management, business development manager, attorney, public relations executive, healthcare executive, chief financial officer, SAP manager, consultant, business analyst, engineer, registered nurse, and sales executive. 100KCrossing.com researches job listings paying $100K+ and actually verifies with employers that they really offer $100K or more as a starting salary for the posted positions.

“Most job seekers use job boards for their search—but most jobs are actually on employer websites and receive very few applications,” Barnes says. “We highly recommend investigating 100KCrossing.com. 100KCrossing.com [http://www.100kcrossing.com] charges $29.95 a month to access our research.”
