Pasadena, CA,—EngineeringCrossing offers those in the engineering industry an easy, precise, and extremely efficient way to hunt for the perfect engineering opening. Designed to help talented professionals find the best opportunities to match their unique career goals and interests, this site is a one-stop shop for engineers.

With EngineeringCrossing's staff of hundreds of highly experienced researchers extensively monitoring the hiring needs of more than 250,000 employers across the country, countless new jobs are added to the site every day. EngineeringCrossing's homepage always lists the number of jobs the site posts each week along with a running total of job listings. The team works tirelessly to ensure that only the most current jobs are posted to the site every day. This week, EngineeringCrossing added more than 2,360 new engineering job openings.

In addition to providing an extensive range of job listings including exclusive notices not posted to other employment sites, EngineeringCrossing features a variety of articles that tap into the engineering industry's key players, companies, and stories.

This week, EngineeringCrossing's "Main Feature" section features "Career Opportunities for Engineering Graduates and Students" and highlights the many avenues for engineering students. Also, this week's "Engineering Feature" article lists the major types of engineering jobs and specialization areas.

This exciting website is affiliated with EmploymentCrossing (www.employmentcrossing.com), the main hub for a growing family of industry-specific job-search sites that launched on April 9, 2007. Currently, job seekers can visit EmploymentCrossing to sign up for EngineeringCrossing's services.

ENGINEERINGCROSSING™

THE LARGEST COLLECTION OF ENGINEERING JOBS ON EARTH

The development of the Crossing employment sites was inspired by the success of LawCrossing (www.lawcrossing.com), which features the largest collection of active legal jobs in the world including more than 10,000 positions at top law firms, corporations, public-interest organizations, and government offices throughout the U.S. Since its launch in July 2003, LawCrossing has become the world's largest legal-career-placement website. The site is another brainchild of EmploymentCrossing founder A. Harrison Barnes, who also founded the hugely successful parent company of the Crossing employment sites, Juriscape, in 2000.
