

EmploymentCrossing Launches EstimatorCrossing, a Job Site for Professional Estimators

March 12, 2009

Pasadena, CA — With the rising need for cost estimators in the construction and manufacturing industries, EmploymentCrossing launched an exclusive website that caters to the career needs of professional estimators. EstimatorCrossing, launched last week, aims to offer a niche service to professional estimators seeking all job openings from their industry.

“We received continuous requests from EmploymentCrossing members to initiate a niche service for professional estimators. This resulted in the launch of EstimatorCrossing. The website allows members to find and apply for each and every estimator job opening in the nation and across the world,” says A. Harrison Barnes, CEO of EmploymentCrossing.

Cost estimators play a significant role in preparing cost estimates for product manufacturing and construction projects. Estimators keep track of all the data that determines the price of the product or service. These include materials, labor, geographic location, project timeline, and other setups such as hardware and software installations.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the employment for professional estimators is expected to grow by 19 percent between 2006 and 2016, which is faster than the average for other occupations. The maximum growth for these positions is expected in the construction industry.

“With the continuous need for infrastructure development and product advancement, the estimator jobs are in demand. Those possessing a degree in construction science, construction management, or building science along with relevant work experience will have strong job prospects,” adds Barnes.

EstimatorCrossing is an exclusive site that lists jobs related to professional estimators. Unlike other job boards, EstimatorCrossing focuses solely on researching estimator jobs from every employer website, newspaper classified, job board, printed matter, and online agency.

“Since we are a research-based organization, we continuously analyze the needs of job seekers. EstimatorCrossing was launched to satiate the growing needs of professional estimators,” adds Barnes.

The following are the most-searched jobs on EstimatorCrossing since its launch:

- Estimator jobs
- Cost estimator jobs
- Estimator project manager jobs
- Project manager jobs
- Construction estimator jobs
- Design consultant jobs
- Operations manager jobs
- Sales engineer jobs
