

InsurCrossing, the Premier Collection of Insurance Jobs Online, Launches with More Than 15,000 Insurance Jobs

April 21, 2008

Pasadena, CA — Despite speculation that the insurance industry may lack large growth in 2008, InsurCrossing (www.insurcrossing.com), an affiliate of EmploymentCrossing, the world's fastest-growing job website, has launched with more than 15,000 insurance jobs.

"In today's job market people are struggling to find jobs because they don't know where to start — the jobs are disbursed among too many websites. Almost all job openings are online, which means someone's dream job could be on one of thousands of career webpages," says CEO A. Harrison Barnes.

"InsurCrossing centralizes all insurance jobs for job seekers," Barnes adds. "Our vision is for job seekers to have all of their industry's jobs located in one convenient location."

InsurCrossing's team of more than 500 researchers scours more than 10,000 online resources and even more employer career webpages, constantly building a reliable collection of current insurance jobs for its users.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor Bureau of Labor Statistics' Career Guide to Industries (<http://www.bls.gov/oco/cg/cgs028.htm>), the insurance industry will be somewhat limited by corporate downsizing, new technology, and increasing direct mail, telephone, and Internet sales in coming years. The good news is that there will also be a surge in insurance job openings because of people leaving jobs and Baby Boomers, who are beginning to retire rapidly, leaving the workforce.

This groundbreaking insurance job website is affiliated with EmploymentCrossing (www.employmentcrossing.com), the main hub for a growing family of industry-specific job-search sites. Currently, job seekers can visit EmploymentCrossing to sign up for InsurCrossing's services.
