

J2EECrossing Is Launched by EmploymentCrossing with 1,432 J2EE Job Openings

October 27, 2008

EmploymentCrossing, one of the world's largest job-board operators, has recently launched J2EECrossing. As part of the EmploymentCrossing job-site franchise, J2EECrossing is seeking to list every J2EE job in the United States in one place. Using a proprietary technology, J2EECrossing monitors the J2EE jobs on every job website and other sources and displays every J2EE job it can find in the market. J2EECrossing's goal is nothing less than to show job seekers every J2EE job available.

Pasadena, CA — A J2EE professional work is one who has ample experience in Java, EJB, JDBC, JBOSS/Weblogic, and server side programming. The J2EE professional focuses on delivering solutions using Java, J2EE design patterns. J2EECrossing, the newly launched job board for J2EE professionals, aspires to list a comprehensive collection of researched job openings. The J2EE job site features jobs from every job board and employer website in the US. J2EECrossing aspires to transform the careers and lives of thousands of J2EE professionals every week and every day.

According to US Bureau of Labor Statistics, the average starting salaries for students who earn a diploma in J2EE varies, depending on location and level of responsibility. A job in J2EE programming is highly sought after and always in demand as predicted by employment trends. The economic outlook and growth potential in this industry is also very good, according to the report. The Bureau of Labor Statistics also states that the competition for jobs in this category is very high. Hence, those with practical experience in J2EE programming and at least have a bachelor's degree in computer engineering or computer science should have the best opportunities.

J2EECrossing posts jobs in every city in the US. Here is the list of some cities where you can find J2EE jobs.

"In this market it is extremely hard to get a job with a recruiter, and recruiters typically work with very few companies," says A. Harrison Barnes, founder and CEO of J2EECrossing. "Job openings that are not widely known or publicized are the easiest jobs to get."

J2EECrossing was launched to assist J2EE professionals with sorting out the opportunities that they may not find out about otherwise. Unlike other job boards, the site focuses solely on J2EE jobs, and it doesn't charge employers to post jobs.

Press Release

“J2EECrossing is a research company that works for job seekers,” Barnes says. “We seek to connect you to employers.” Barnes also emphasizes that J2EECrossing is committed to finding new sources of jobs daily.

“There is an astonishing number of J2EE job openings out there. We want to find them all,” he says.

J2EECrossing charges $29.95 a month to view its job-opening research. As part of the site’s launch special, however, J2EECrossing is offering a free, seven-day trial to allow job seekers to familiarize themselves with the service.
