“The new Daily Job Market News articles not only keep readers informed about the ever changing job market, but also help them know where to look and when to look,” said CEO A. Not only can viewers find a link to the Daily Job Market News on ManagerCrossing, but they can also read every article, past and present, on EmploymentCrossing.com, the main hub for a growing family of industry-specific job-search sites that was launched on April 9, 2007.

This rapidly expanding site focuses exclusively on providing the most extensive range of available jobs from every corner of each sector and, as of today, has posted close to four hundred thousand jobs!

“The mission of EmploymentCrossing is simple: to gather and share with the world all current and active job listings. How have we begun to accomplish this crucial mission? By dividing and conquering. We have targeted more than 25 key industries and set out to master each job market by mining and posting all relevant jobs from employer career webpages, newspapers, job boards, and other online resources. In addition, we do not charge employers to post jobs, a unique approach that encourages ever more job diversity on our sites,” says its website.

The inspiration behind it all comes from the development and success of LawCrossing (www.lawcrossing.com), which features the largest collection of active legal jobs in the world, including more than 10,000 positions at top law firms, corporations, public interest organizations, and government offices throughout the U.S.

Since its launch in July 2003, LawCrossing has become the world’s largest legal-career-placement website. The website is another brainchild of Barnes, who also founded the hugely successful parent company of the Crossing employment sites, Juriscape, in 2000.
