Job Board PhysicalTherapyCrossing Launches with 10,000 Physical Therapy Jobs

April 28, 2008

Pasadena, CA — With healthcare job demands increasing in the US, PhysicalTherapyCrossing (www.physicaltherapycrossing.com), an online physical therapy job board with 10,000 current physical therapy job openings, launched today.

“The healthcare industry is expanding rapidly with many new jobs arising. There are so many healthcare jobs that we have decided to showcase them on their own specific niche job boards,” says CEO A. Harrison Barnes. “PhysicalTherapyCrossing constantly researches physical therapy jobs all day long, updating existing jobs and adding new ones. We seek out jobs and post them as soon as they become available. We augment our collection by inviting employers to post jobs with us for free too.”

PhysicalTherapyCrossing’s job selection is also expected to continue to grow as reports say the need to fill physical therapy jobs will increase. With a growing elderly population, physical therapists will become even more in demand, with expectations that jobs in the field will proliferate faster than average in the next eight years, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics [http://www.bls.gov/oco/ocos080.htm].

“The increasing elderly population will drive growth in the demand for physical therapy services. The elderly population is particularly vulnerable to chronic and debilitating conditions that require therapeutic services. Also, the baby-boom generation is entering the prime age for heart attacks and strokes, increasing the demand for cardiac and physical rehabilitation. And increasing numbers of children will need physical therapy as technological advances save the lives of a larger proportion of newborns with severe birth defects,” says the report.
