Rapidly Growing Public Relations Job Board, PRCrossing, Now Features More than 2,500 Jobs

February 18, 2008

Pasadena, CA — PRCrossing, the premier job search engine for public relations professionals, has rapidly expanded since its inception and now features more than 2,500 jobs. Having quickly become the database with the largest collection of public relations jobs, PRCrossing is the most efficient, user-friendly, and precise public relations job-search tool available.

To ensure that it possesses the best collection of jobs for PR professionals, PRCrossing monitors thousands of employer, job, and trade organization websites and filters every job listing to guarantee that users only receive results that are related to the public relations field.

What's more, the site also adds hundreds of additional domains to its job-tracking system every week, so every time users conduct a job search, the results are more comprehensive — and include more listings — than before. No other job board has the capacity to do the same.

PRCrossing does not charge employers to post jobs, which maximizes the number of listings on the site. Also, the fact that the company proactively searches for job openings ensures that the site's collection of jobs not only grows exponentially but does so at an increasingly breakneck pace.

Increasingly efficient and constantly developing job-search capabilities have fueled the swift expansion of PRCrossing's parent site, EmploymentCrossing — which currently features more than 900,000 active job listings and will soon be passing 1 million — and have resulted in PRCrossing's adding more than 400 jobs to its database within the past seven days alone.

“Our staff rigorously works to ensure that we have the richest and most reliable selection of current public relations jobs in the country. We specialize in finding and posting all available PR jobs, so users can rest assured that if there is a job opening in the field, they will find it listed on PRCrossing,” said CEO A. Harrison Barnes.

As stated above, this exciting website is affiliated with EmploymentCrossing (www.employmentcrossing.com), the main hub for a growing family of industry-specific job-search sites that was launched on April 9, 2007. Currently, job seekers can visit EmploymentCrossing to sign up for PRCrossing's services.

The EmploymentCrossing group of websites is on the fast track to expansion with more Crossing sites launching weekly. EmploymentCrossing will continue to focus exclusively on providing the most extensive range of available jobs from every corner of every sector. This spring watch for the launches of SciencesCrossing, InsurCrossing, BusinessAnalystCrossing, and RECrossing, among others.
