THE LARGEST COLLECTION OF SELLING JOBS ON EARTH

SellingCrossing, the Sales Industry's Fastest-Growing Job Board, Reaches 80,000 Jobs

February 8, 2008

Pasadena, CA — Along with its recent first-year anniversary, SellingCrossing celebrated the expansion of its job selection — which recently surpassed 80,000 jobs.

“I’ve been thrilled about SellingCrossing since day one. The career opportunities in sales are infinite, and with our job diversity getting better and the selection growing daily, SellingCrossing is on the path to really making an impact on how all salespeople find jobs,” said CEO A. Harrison Barnes.

SellingCrossing charges users a monthly fee of $29.95 to access its job listings. This fee pays for its team of researchers, programmers, and other staff members to track down and post every single sales job they can on a daily basis. It also allows members to gain access to more than 30 other industry-specific job boards. A list of these can be viewed at the EmploymentCrossing website, www.employmentcrossing.com. A free, seven-day trial of the service is also available.

Students are able to access SellingCrossing’s supply of jobs for free while they are in school. This means that all levels of students can find sales-related, flexible jobs during school and even their first jobs upon graduation without spending a dime on the service.

In addition to its constant efforts to expand the resources and number of jobs on the site, SellingCrossing features sales-related news stories and profiles of the industry’s key players.
